2. Key Findings

A. Product Categories.

Beverages lead with 21% of sales, followed by Dairy (19%) and Meat/Poultry (13%). Grains/Cereals and Produce remain weaker at 7–8%, suggesting untapped potential.

B. Employee Performance.

Top performers are Margaret Peacock (250K) and Janet Leverling (213K), driving a large share of sales. Lower performers show room for improvement through training and support.

C. Product and Customer Performance.

Premium products like Côte de Blaye dominate sales. Key customers QUICK, SAVEA, and ERNSH contribute heavily, highlighting reliance on a few major accounts.

3. Business Recommendations

A. Customer Strategy.

Expand the customer base by targeting mid-tier clients and reducing dependency on top three accounts.

B. Product Focus.

Promote high-margin categories (Beverages, Dairy) while boosting weaker categories with targeted campaigns.

C. Regional Expansion.

Invest in underperforming regions such as Africa and Asia through localized marketing and partnerships.

D. Employee Development.
Use best practices from top performers to train and incentivize lower-performing staff.

E. Continuous Monitoring.
Maintain monthly dashboard reviews to track KPIs and adjust strategies quickly.
